Mission Statement:

The Friends of the J. Lewis Crozer Library is a nonprofit group of citizens working together to advocate for the continued existence of the library for adults and children in years to come.

The Friends strive to stimulate a greater interest in and use of the library, to raise awareness about the library functions and needs, and to promote and enrich literacy through library services.

Who we are:

The Friends of the J. Lewis Crozer Library is a group of concerned citizens formed this past year who care about the library and want to provide it with the best programs and services possible.

We care because the J. Lewis Crozer Library is the only library in Chester serving the needs of the city's 37,000 residents. It also holds the distinction of being the third oldest library in the state of Pennsylvania. Offering a summer reading program for kids, GED classes in the fall, storytime every Wednesday, and basic computer classes throughout the year, with a wide variety of other programming, the J. Lewis Crozer Library's role in the community is vital.

What we do:

The Friends of the J. Lewis Crozer Library is just getting started, which means we need your help and support more than ever!

Over the next year, we hope to:

- 1) Support and increase the programs available to adults at the library.
- 2) Provide the staff with financial assistance to replace furniture in the back room.
- 3) Increase the reading and availability of books throughout the city, especially for children.
- 4) And more!

How do I become a member?

Becoming a member of the Friends of the J. Lewis Crozer Library is easy! Simply fill out the form below with the appropriate membership category. Attach your yearly payment and send it back to the library. We'll get back to you with a confirmation of your membership as soon as we can! Thanks!
